American Museum of Natural History, The, (incorp. 1869), Central Park West, 77th St and Columbus Ave. Founded in 1869 for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a Museum and Library of Natural History; of encouraging and developing the study of Natural Science; of advancing the general knowledge of kindred subjects, and to that end of furnishing popular instruction. The Museum is under the control of a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees, which has the entire direction of all its activities as well as the guardianship of all the collections and exhibits. The Trustees give their services without remuneration. The building is erected and largely maintained by the City, through the Department of Parks. The City also makes an annual appropriation to the corporation which is devoted to the heating, lighting, repair and supervision of the building and the care of the collections. The funds which enable the Trustees to purchase specimens, to carry on explorations and various forms of scientific work, to prepare and publish scientific papers and to enlarge the library are raised by contributions from the Trustees and other friends. These contributions are derived from three sources: (1) the Endowment Fund, (2) Membership Fund, (3) voluntary subscriptions.

The exhibits of the Museum include the life of the land and sea from all regions of the earth; birds, fishes, mammals, insects, reptiles, woods of North America, native races of men and their art; minerals; fossils. The Museum maintains a free public scientific reference library of more than 62,000 volumes. Among the exhibits of note are the Habitat Groups of North American Birds; the Morgan Collection of Gems and Precious Stones, the gift of the late J. Pierpont Morgan; the Jesup Collection of North American Woods; the finest collection in the world illustrating the Evolution of the Horse; extensive series of dinosaur remains; Habitat Groups of North American Mammals; Habitat Groups of Amphibians; extensive collections from the Indians of North America, and unique groups and models showing marine life.

The Museum supplies Nature Study Collections to the public schools of the City. Courses of lectures are delivered to the pupils of the public schools; free lectures to the public are given on Tuesday and Saturday evenings, October to April, inclusive, under the auspices of the Board of Education of New York City. Several courses of lectures are given to Members of the Museum during the year. The exhibition halls are open free to the public every day in the year. Hours: Week-days, including legal holidays, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.; Sundays, from 1 to 5 P. M.; Tuesday and Saturday evenings from 7 to 10.

The contribution of $50,000 constitutes a Benefactor; $25,000 constitutes an Associate Founder; $10,000 constitutes an Associate Benefactor; $1,000 constitutes a Patron; $500 a Fellow; $100 a Life Member; the payment of $25 yearly confers Sustaining Membership and the payment of $10 yearly confers Annual Membership.

American Patriotic League, (incorp. 1891). Independence Hall, Phila., Pa. Object is to create a popular demand for moral and civic training and secure legislation for its introduction and supervision in all schools at home and abroad. We have demonstrated on a large scale, through many years, that by substituting democracy under instruction for the ordinary monarchical school government, pupils develop the sense of justice, the power of initiative, independence of character, correct social and civic habits and the habit of co-operating for every good purpose. This democratic, laboratory method is called the school republic, school city, self-government, etc., and has been used successfully by the U. S. War Department in Cuba, the U. S. Bureau of Education in Alaska and by large numbers of public schools in our own and other countries.

Every person is invited to be a member of the league and assist in its work, both morally and financially. For more information concerning the need, scope and vital importance of our work, write to the league.

The Association's activities are grouped under two departments, viz., the Department of Social Welfare and the Department of Family Welfare.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WELFARE.

Donald B. Armstrong, M.D., Director. The work of this department is divided among three bureaus and one commission.

BUREAU OF PUBLIC HEALTH AND HYGIENE, Philip S. Platt, Supt., Directs the

Milbank Memorial Bath, Richard E. Taylor, Supt., under direction of the Bureau of Public Health and Hygiene. Purpose, to arouse interest in municipal baths and to set up standards of efficiency and economy with which to compare them. The Bath at 325 East 38th St. was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Milbank Anderson and has a capacity of 4,800 bathers daily. It contains 93 showers and 9 tubs. Baths taken for the year ending September 30, 1914, 199,131. A charge of five cents is made for soap and towel if not provided by the bathers themselves.

BUREAU OF WELFARE OF SCHOOL CHILDREN, Edward F. Brown, Supt.

School Lunches, Miss Mabel Kittredge, Chairman. The Bureau supports the work of the New York School Lunch Committee in extending its work to 28 public schools with a total registration of more than 44,800 children; work extended to one high school also.

BUREAU OF FOOD SUPPLY.

VENTILATION COMMISSION, Prof. C. E. A. Winslow, Chairman, composed of scientific men and supported by the Department for the purpose of research and experimental work in problems of ventilation.

DEPARTMENT OF FAMILY WELFARE.

William H. Mathews, Director. The work of this Department is carried on by the following bureaus:

BUREAU OF RELIEF AND REHABILITATION OF FAMILIES IN THEIR HOMES, Mrs. Helene Ingram, Supt.; Miss Hall D. Woods, Asst.; Miss Alice C. Mayer, Miss Sybel A. Bliss, Miss Elizabeth C. Alling, Miss Agnes Anderson, Miss Laura H. Woodruff and Miss Winifred S. Gibbs, Supervisors. (tel. 7040 Gramercy). Open from 9 A.M. until midnight every day in the year.

This Bureau endeavors, after relieving promptly every needy case of destitution, (1) to ascertain whether the apparent needs in each family brought to its attention are the real and only needs resulting in its dependency; (2) to make proper provision for all real needs (a) by putting the family in touch with persons legally and morally obligated and able to assist; (b) by supplementing when necessary the relief thus organized and (c) by administering it in such a way as not only to put an end to suffering as quickly as possible, but also to prevent its recurrence; (3) to teach the poor in their homes lessons of health and hygiene, care and feeding of children, sewing, cooking, home economy, etc.; (4) to prevent indiscriminate giving and imposture. To accomplish these purposes it employs an office staff and group of trained visitors, teachers of cooking and sewing and visiting cleaners. The disbursements of this Bureau were $245,-635.96 in 1913-14. The families cared for in 1913-14 were 10,423.

BUREAU OF REHABILITATION AND RELIEF OF THE HOMELESS.

Joint Application Bureau, Charles K. Blatchly, Supt., open until midnight daily, maintained jointly with the Charity Organization Society, cares for homeless men and women and receives personal applications for assistance. It is a bureau of advice and information for the poor of the city. Resident applicants are referred to the constituent societies or to other sources of aid.

BUREAU OF EDUCATIONAL NURSING, Miss Bessie Le Lacheur,

Supt. This work, carried on by a staff of fifteen nurses, is of three kinds, viz., prenatal, general and hospital social service. Except in the hospital social service, the nurses work almost entirely among families in the care of the Association's Bureau of Relief and Rehabilitation. General nurses care for chronic cases and for convalescents no longer requiring constant care. They also aid visitors to get proper diagnoses or some definite line of treatment for patients. Prenatal work is done by nurses connected with Caroline Rest. A complete program of prenatal instruction is carried out, the nurse remaining in charge of the mother until the child is a year old, and longer, if necessary. Social service nurses, connected with children's dispensaries, work partially under the supervision of the Association's supervisor of nurses, using the Association's relief funds to dispense milk and special nourishment to children under their care.

BUREAU OF FRESH AIR, James H. Hutchens, Supt. Work is carried on mainly at Sea Breeze Home, West Coney Island where three large buildings and an open pavilion are devoted to the care of convalescent women, children and babies, who are kept for an average period of two weeks. Day parties of women and children are also taken from the city two days a week and supplied with free transportation, lunches, games and surf bathing. During the summer of 1914, 3,090 mothers and children were kept for a period of two weeks each. Eight thousand six hundred and seven were taken on day parties. For exceptional cases not suitable for groups with other guests, country board is arranged. Attending physician, R. G. Snyder, M.D.

Sea Breeze Hospital, (est. 1904), West Coney Island, is the first American demonstration of the value of salt air treatment and surf bathing for children suffering from tuberculosis of the bones and glands; of which there are estimated to be 4,500 cases in New York City. Capacity, 43 beds. When able to pay, patients are charged $10.00 a week.

A fund of $250,000, which was raised during 1905 and 1906 by the Association is now being spent for a permanent seaside hospital.

Medical Advisory Board: Walter B. James, M.D., Chairman; Hermann M. Biggs, M.D.; John Winters Brannan, M.D.; Lawrence F. Flick, M.D.; V. P. Gibney, M.D.; W. P. Northrup, M.D.; Newton M. Schaffer, M.D.; E. L. Trudeau, M.D.; Leonard W. Ely, M.D.

Home Hospital, Miss Helen Knight Smith, Superintendent, in the East River Homes at 78th Street and John Jay Park, is an experiment in the home treatment of combined poverty and tuberculosis. It is planned as a supplement to, not a substitute for, the hospital and sanatoria. It is demonstrating that under certain conditions it is possible to check the spread of the disease in congested districts and to treat tuberculosis with a reasonable measure of success in the home. Medical Director, Linsly R. Williams, M.D.; Attending Physician, Edward C. Brenner, M.D.

Caroline Rest, Hartsdale, New York, Miss Laura H. Woodruff, Acting Superintendent, is a convalescent home and school for mothers convalescing after child birth. A large fireproof building capable of accommodating 90 mothers and children was erected during 1908 and presented to the Association by Mr. George H. F. Schrader as a memorial of his mother. In connection with Caroline Rest a staff of visiting nurses is maintained in the city for the home instruction of tenement mothers in the proper care of themselves and their children. Attending Physician, H. Ernest Schmid, M.D.

Caroline Country Club, Mr. Everett F. Elwood, Pres.; Mr. Howard F. Braucher, Vice-Pres.; Miss K. M. Dinan, Secretary, Miss L. E. Korch, Treasurer. Composed of persons professionally engaged in social or philanthropic work. Its object is recreation, rest and social enjoyment, for which exceptional advantages are provided at the beautiful club house and grounds of Hartsdale, New York, donated to this Association by Mr. George H. F. Schrader. Inquiries may be addressed to the Secretary, Caroline Country Club, 105 East 22nd Street.

The Department of Public Charities has charge of all the charitable institutions and operations of the city government except Bellevue and Allied Hospitals (q. v.) and is organized under several departments. (see below.)

THE POOR LAW, (Chap. 225, Laws of 1896) provides as follows:

In the State of New York, poor persons—those unable to maintain themselves—are maintained by the town, city, county, or State. In all of the cases described below, whether town, city, county, State, or alien poor, application should be made to the Superintendent of the Bureau of Dependent Adults.

The town poor are such persons as are required by law to be relieved or supported at the expense of the town or city; the county poor are such persons as are required by law to be relieved or supported at the expense of the county, and the State poor are such persons as are required by law to be relieved or supported at the expense of the State.

Every person of full age who has been a resident and inhabitant of any town or city for one year, and the members of his family who shall not have gained a separate settlement, shall be deemed settled in such town or city, and shall so remain until he shall have gained a like settlement in some other town or city in the State, or shall remove from the State and remain away a year.

Poor persons who shall have gained a settlement in any town or city shall be maintained by such town or city, application for their relief being made to the overseer of the poor or other local poor law official.

Those who have not gained a settlement in any town or city in the county in which they shall have become independent, shall be maintained and relieved by the superintendent of the poor at the expense of the county, except in the case of State poor persons.

State poor persons are those who have not resided sixty days in any county in this State within one year preceding the time of an application by them for aid to any superintendent of the poor, or other officer charged with the relief of poor persons. Such persons are provided for in State almshouses at the expense of the State, on commitment thereto by superintendent of the poor or other like officials, until they can be sent to their homes or friends, or otherwise provided for.

Alien poor persons who are inmates of charitable institutions and likely to become permanent dependents may be removed to the countries from which they came, by the State Board of Charities, application being made to the Superintendent of the Bureau of Dependent Adults.

THE BUREAU OF DEPENDENT ADULTS. Manhattan and Bronx office: foot of East 26th St.; Brooklyn office: 327 Schermerhorn St.; Richmond office: Borough Hall, St. George, Staten Island.

All cases of destitution of whatsoever kind, including desertion, or abandonment of wife or family, dependent aged people, the sick, or dead poor, may be referred to this Bureau at the nearest office. Provision will there be made for the temporary or permanent care or relief according to the needs of the case.

Poor Adult Blind Citizens of good character who have lived in New York City continuously for two years preceding application for aid, and who are not inmates of any City institution may receive annually a share of a special appropriation made for their support. This amount averages about $50. a year, for each such person.

The Division of Domestic Relations, 124 East 59th St., is a branch of the Bureau of Dependent Adults, the purpose of which is to secure support for persons unable to maintain themselves, in accordance with the provisions of the Poor Law and Charter. The services of an Assistant Corporation Council who represents this Division are supplied by the Law Department. Deserted wives and mothers of illegitimate children requiring support for such children may apply at this Division. In cases of unmarried mothers suing for support, the proceedings are heard privately by a woman superintendent.

THE BUREAU OF DEPENDENT CHILDREN, 124 East 59th St., deals with cases of dependent, delinquent, neglected, improperly guarded or ill-treated children under 16 years of age. It works in co-operation with the Children's Courts (q. v.) and attempts to prevent such children from remaining public charges.

CHILDREN.

THE CHILDREN'S HOSPITALS AND SCHOOLS, Randall's Island, receive sick or destitute children between 2 and 16 years of age, with their mothers, preferably, or without their mothers, if necessary. Medical and surgical cases of every kind, also cases of contagious eye and skin diseases are received here from private families and other institutions. Epileptic and feeble-minded children are here cared for until they can be admitted to State institutions. The latter, however, have never been able to accommodate all such cases, so that some are by necessity obliged to remain permanently in the Island institution. Defective children who are too young or for other reasons cannot be admitted to institutions for special training are cared for here. In fact, any destitute sick, or defective child, whose particular condition or circumstances prevent its admission elsewhere, will be received here. Mrs. Mary C. Dunphy, Supt.

The Children's Hospitals and Schools include the following divisions:

The Children's Hospital; the Custodial Asylum, for the care of destitute, idiotic and feeble-minded of the unteachable, or slightly teachable grade, and the Cable Address, Charity, New York). Office Hours: 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. On Saturdays to 1 P.M., and in summer until 12 M.

The Charity Organization Society of the City of New York was founded by a Committee appointed in a resolution by the State Board of Charities following a report presented to the Board on behalf of its New York members by Mrs. Josephine Shaw Lowell upon the situation regarding the non-institutional or outdoor relief work conducted in the city.

The objects of the Society, as stated in its charter, are:

1) To be a centre of intercommunication between the various churches and charitable agencies in the city. To foster harmonious co-operation between them, and to check the evils of the overlapping of relief.

2) To investigate thoroughly, and without charge, the cases of all applicants for relief which are referred to the Society for inquiry, and to send the persons having a legitimate interest in such cases full reports of the results of investigation. To provide visitors, who shall personally attend cases needing counsel and advice.

3) To obtain from the proper charities and charitable individuals adequate relief for suitable cases.

4) To procure work for poor persons who are capable of being wholly or partially self-supporting.

5) To repress mendicancy by the above means and by the prosecution of impostors.

6) To promote the general welfare of the poor by social and sanitary reforms, by the inculcation of habits of providence and self-dependence, and by the establishment and maintenance of any activities to these ends.

7) To provide philanthropic education and to promote the training of practical workers in charity.

The work of the Society is carried on in three general divisions: the Department of General Work and affiliated committees, the Department for the Improvement of Social Conditions and the New York School of Philanthropy.

The district offices are neighborhood centers where committees made up of residents of the vicinity and representatives of the local social agencies consult in order to bring to the help of families needing assistance the maximum resources of the neighborhood. These committees also are frequently able to obviate abuses and improve living conditions in their territory. Stationed in each of the districts is a group of salaried and volunteer visitors who carry out the plans of the Committee for the welfare of the families under their care.

It is the policy of the Society to develop self-reliance and self-dependence in the families for which it cares, to help them out of their poverty, by removing obstacles from their paths and by offering them new opportunities for self-support and self-development.

This is done both by bringing to the aid of families their natural resources such as relatives, friends, neighbors, employers, churches, and also by stimulating and encouraging them through personal relationships established with them by members of the staff and by volunteer workers. The Society co-operates with the welfare agencies of the city—dispensaries, settlements, church societies and the like—so that each organization is able to do its share in carrying out plans agreed upon by all the agencies which are helping the same family.

CENTRAL OFFICE, 105 East 22nd St. (tel. 4066 Gramercy). The work of the Society with families brings to it great numbers of requests for advice about and from persons in trouble of various kinds and concerning institutions and organizations engaged in welfare work. Four bureaus at the Central Office offer this kind of help.

The Reception Bureau, Mrs. L. F. Ford, Agent, receives inquiries needing personal help or seeking assistance for relatives, friends or others. It gives advice about opportunities for the care of the aged, the sick, the mentally deficient. It supplies information concerning suitable homes for working girls. It is the consulting room of the Society.

The Investigation Bureau, Miss S. F. Burrows, Secretary, supplies individuals and charity organization societies in other cities with information concerning families or individuals in New York City in whom they are interested.

The Bureau of Advice and Information, Miss Esther S. Baldwin, Secretary, offers to inquirers and out-of-town organizations who are members of the Society, reports upon the work done by social organizations soliciting funds in New York City.

The Registration Bureau, Miss E. I. Scott, Registrar, has charge of the records of families cared for or under the care of the Society. These records now number more than 160,000. Here persons who have a proper interest in families under current care of the Society may obtain information about them.

JOINT APPLICATION BUREAU, Charles K. Blatchly, Superintendent, Frederick Lundberg, Night Agent. 105 East 22nd St. (tel. 4066 Gramercy). This Bureau is mutually conducted by the Society and the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor. It is open from 9 A.M. to 12 midnight, and is designed to care for homeless men and women. Able-bodied men are given temporary work. Permanent work is secured for many applicants. The sick are placed in hospitals or convalescent homes. Relief is given when necessary, and transportation is secured when possible for applicants having homes in other places.

SOCIAL SERVICE EXCHANGE, Vernon M. Cady, Secretary, 105 East 22nd St. (tel. 3928 Gramercy). Maintains a catalog of the names and addresses of all the families under the care of co-operating agencies using the Exchange. With the names and addresses of the families are those of the organizations caring for them.

Thus while safeguarding the privacy of the families, the Exchange makes it possible for one agency to learn what other agencies are helping or have helped the family, or person, who has come to it for assistance. Duplication of work is minimized and a maximum amount of co-operation between different organizations is obtained. The Exchange now lists more than 300,000 names. From 60,000 to 70,000 inquiries are made of the Exchange every year.

Four activities of the Society closely allied to the Department of General Work are the Woodyard, the Laundry, the Penny Provident Fund, and the Red Cross Emergency Relief Committee.

WOODYARD, Charles M. Keefer, Superintendent, 516 West 28th St. (tel. 421 Chelsea). Temporary work is offered to men who desire to support themselves while they are seeking permanent employment. Men with homes are allowed to earn fifty cents per day, involving four or five hours work. Those without homes are permitted to earn forty cents, less work being required. The Woodyard is supported by sales of wood and of tickets, and by voluntary contributions.

LAUNDRY, Charles M. Keefer, Superintendent, 516 West 28th St. (tel. 421 Chelsea), is fully equipped and competent to do first-class work for the public; its object being to teach women all kinds of laundry work, so that they may be able to support themselves and earn higher wages. Novices are not allowed to work on family garments until sufficiently expert to do fine work. Names and addresses of graduated expert laundresses can be obtained at the Laundry.

PENNY PROVIDENT FUND, Charles Golden, Cashier, 105 East 22nd St. Is a special agency for the encouragement of thrift. It is not a savings bank and aims to do what savings banks in New York City do not do—invite savings of less than one dollar. Stamp cards are used to register receipts and when a sufficient sum has been saved depositors are encouraged to open accounts in savings banks. There are nearly three hundred stamp stations located in churches, schools, stores, clubs, institutions, etc.

RED CROSS EMERGENCY RELIEF COMMITTEE OF THE CHARITY ORGANIZATION SOCIETY, (created in 1909), is charged with the duties of the Charity Organization Society as Institutional Member of the American Red Cross, (q. v.). As representative of the American Red Cross it administers the relief work following disasters occurring in New York State east of a line drawn from Hancock to Pulaski, excepting Long Island. It is also the duty of this committee, upon call from the National Director of the American Red Cross, to procure trained agents to assist in the Red Cross Emergency relief work in any part of the United States.

The Committee administered relief in connection with the fire which took place in the factory of the Triangle Waist Company at 23 Washington Place, New York City, on March 25, 1911; the wreck of the S. S. Titanic, on April 14, 1912; the arrival of Mexican refugees in New York City, in 1913 and 1914; the wreck of the S. S. Volturno, on October 10, 1913. Printed reports will be mailed upon application.

The Committee consists of the president and vice-president of the Charity Organization Society and the president and secretary of the state branch of the American Red Cross, ex-officio, and not less than three other members. It has power to add to its members temporarily, and to create special committees, to meet the needs of any particular emergency. The membership of the standing committee is as follows: Robert W. de Forest, Chairman; Otto T. Bannard, Edward T. Devine, Mrs. John M. Glenn, Lloyd C. Griscom, Miss Florence M. Johnson, Mrs. W. B. Rice; ex-officio, Cleveland H. Dodge, Mrs. W. K. Draper.

DEPARTMENT FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF SOCIAL CONDITIONS.

Lawrence Veiller, Director. Rooms 615-622, 105 East 22nd St. (tel. 2860 Gramercy). Under this Department the various activities of the Society for the improvement of social conditions and the removal of the underlying causes of poverty in the community are included. The department seeks to secure the solution of the city's social problems upon a constructive and permanent basis, having as its chief purpose the accomplishment of definite results rather than the discussion or exploitation of theoretical views of social reform. The work of the department includes the following present activities:

TENEMENT HOUSE COMMITTEE, Miss Madge D. Headley, Secretary; Harvey T. Warren, Asst. Sec'y. This committee seeks to improve the condition of the homes of the people in New York City by preventing the passage of legislation which will weaken the present Tenement House Law; by securing from time to time, as may be necessary, new legislation strengthening and improving the present requirements; by studying carefully the enforcement of the existing laws by the local authorities and stimulating them to more efficient administration, co-operating with the local officials wherever it is possible. In addition, it is the purpose of the Committee to study carefully present and future tendencies, especially in the outlying districts of the city, so as to safeguard these districts from the creation of slums similar to those which exist in the more congested portions of the city; to formulate new remedies for existing conditions and secure their accomplishment and to develop in all ways possible every practicable improvement in tenement house conditions. Through the efforts of this committee the appointment of the Tenement House Commission of 1900 was secured, as well as the passage of the present Tenement House Law, and the establishment of the Tenement House Department.

It carries on educational work with tenants, landlords, social workers, and the general public, by preparation and distribution of pamphlets, through lectures, conferences, and in other ways.

COMMITTEE ON THE PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS, Frank H. Mann, Secretary; R. N. Whaley, Asst. Sec'y.; F. Elisabeth Crowell, Exec. Sec. of the Association of Tuberculosis Clinics; Dwight E. Breed, Manager of Traveling Exhibition; Isabel E. Sanders, Supervisor Fresh Air Classes.

Field of Activity—Manhattan and the Bronx.

This Committee, composed of physicians and laymen, has for its objects:

1) Research: Research into the social, as distinct from the medical aspects of tuberculosis.

2) Education: The dissemination of knowledge through the publication of leaflets and pamphlets, the giving of lectures, the use of traveling exhibitions, and appropriate announcements in the press that tuberculosis is a communicable, preventable and curable disease, and of the means and methods to be adopted for its cure and prevention.

3) Treatment: The advancement of movement to provide for special hospitals, sanatoria and clinics for consumptives.

4) Legislation: An effort to secure the enactment of legislation looking toward the control of all recognized causes of contagion.

Its Methods are:

1) Investigation into the social aspects of tuberculosis. Study of institutions for the treatment of tuberculosis patients. Study of tuberculosis among different nationalities and races. Investigation of lodging houses and tenements. Investigation of country employment for city consumptives. Study of possibilities of home treatment of tuberculous sick in New York's tenement houses. Study in New York City of the prevalence of tuberculosis among workers in certain industries based on medical examinations.

2) Distribution of circulars of advice regarding tuberculosis through labor unions, factories, department stores, settlements, churches, etc. Popular lectures on tuberculosis in English, Yiddish, Italian, Bohemian, Swedish, French and German. Instruction regarding tuberculosis by means of the stereopticon, and by moving picture exhibitions in the parks. Showing the Permanent Traveling Tuberculosis Exhibition in settlements, churches, clubs, etc., and in stores on crowded thoroughfares, viewed by a quarter of a million people a year. The organization of committees to work among various nationalities. The distribution of hundred of thousands of circulars, leaflets and pamphlets. The distribution of thousands of reports describing special investigations. The distribution in tenement homes of art posters with tuberculosis advice on them. Text books on tuberculosis and Special Tuberculosis Exhibits are prepared for the Public Schools. Observance of Tuberculosis Day by more than three hundred ministers.

3) The organization of special tuberculosis dispensaries. The establishment of day camps. The organization of fresh air classes in public schools for children predisposed to tuberculosis. The formation of special classes for tuberculous children, and for ænemic children predisposed to tuberculosis. The medical examination of workers in different trades. The organization of the Association of Tuberculosis Clinics (q. v.). The formation of a nurses' association. Investigation of the adequacy of the existing hospital provision for the tuberculous sick and urging the city authorities to meet it more adequately.

4) The effort to secure the enactment of legislation looking toward the control of such recognized causes of contagion as spitting in public places, dry sweeping of streets; the use of work rooms in tenements for sleeping purposes, etc.

The Committee acts in conjunction with the departments of the City government and in co-operation with trade unions, church houses, settlements, lodges, clubs, etc.

COMMITTEE ON CRIMINAL COURTS. Lawrence Veiller, Secretary; George Everson, Executive Secretary. This Committee was organized with the definite purpose of aiding the administration of justice in the lower criminal courts. During the year 1910 the Page Commission secured the passage of a new inferior courts act, calculated to mark a distinct advance in the important work of these courts. The Charity Organization Society, feeling that the opportunity for helpful service had not ceased with the passage of this legislation, organized the Criminal Courts Committee to assist and co-operate with the magistrates and justices in securing the best possible results under the new law.

The keynote of the Committee's work is sympathetic co-operation with the judges, with the public, with social workers, with court clerks and city officials, and with the Legislature. It watches all legislation affecting the work of the inferior courts in New York City; it opposes undesirable amendments, and drafts and supports desirable legislative amendments; it serves to bring to the aid of judges the force of public sentiment in behalf of needed changes; it makes careful surveys of specific problems connected with the work of the courts; it aids in securing necessary appropriations for reforms needed to make the work of these courts effective.

There are ten sub-committees, as follows: General administration, domestic relations courts, night courts, probation, law and legislation, buildings, children's courts, Court of Special Sessions, record system and court records, and institutions.

SCHOOL OF PHILANTHROPY.

NEW YORK SCHOOL OF PHILANTHROPY, THE, (est. 1898, Summer Session; 1903-04, Winter Session; 1914, Institutes), United Charities Building, 105 East 22d St., N. Y. C. Edward T. Devine, Director.

The School is conducted by the Charity Organization Society and affiliated with Columbia University, and is primarily a professional training school for civic and social work. It aims to give fundamental courses of instruction and of field work which will prepare for usefulness in any of the rapidly multiplying kinds of organized social movements and for efficiency in those governmental positions, national, state, and municipal, which have to do directly with the promotion and protection of social welfare.

Curriculum—The course extends throughout the academic year from October to May inclusive, for a period of two years. The work of the two years is sharply differentiated: the instruction of the first year includes only courses which are believed to be valuable to all who are expecting to engage in any kind of social work on either a professional or a volunteer basis, with opportunity for specialization in field work; in the second year the work is strictly vocational and specialized.

Certain courses are given in the late afternoon and evening for the benefit of those who are regularly occupied during the day. Institutes are conducted for employed social workers in various fields. Six Institutes will be held in 1915.

Requirements for Admission.—In grade and character the instruction in the School of Philanthropy is comparable to that in other graduate professional schools. While a college diploma is not definitely required for admission, it is expected that candidates shall present evidence of adequate preparation for serious professional study.

Elementary acquaintance with history, civics, economics, and ability to write simple English clearly and correctly, are assumed in the courses of instruction, and a knowledge of elementary physiology, biology, and psychology is very desirable. What is especially desired is trained and receptive intelligence, capacity to use the mind. An entrance examination is required of all regular students.

Candidates under twenty-one years of age, or over thirty-five, are admitted only for exceptional reasons. New students may enter only at the beginning of a course, that is to say, ordinarily, at the beginning of the academic year.

Charity Organization

Satisfactory credentials are expected as to character, health, and earnestness of purpose.

A limited number of persons who are not candidates for the diploma or for a certificate may be admitted as auditors to certain courses.

Fees and Expenses—The tuition for the two years' course is $150, payable in three instalments of $50 each. Students taking less than the full year's work pay at the rate of $7.50 per hour per term.

Staff (1914-15) : Edward T. Devine, Principles and Methods of Social Work; Samuel McCune Lindsay, Social Legislation; Mary Grace Worthington, Field Work; Kate Holladay Claghorn, Statistics; Porter R. Lee, Family Rehabilitation; Henry W. Thurston, Child Welfare; George Ellsworth Johnson, Play and Recreation; Frederick A. Cleveland, Public Service and Administration; Orlando F. Lewis, Delinquency; James Alexander Miller, Medical Social Service; Mary K. Simkhovitch, Settlements and Social Centers; Mary Van Kleeck, Industrial Problems; Gaylord S. White, Social Work of Churches.

Children's Aid Society, The, (org. 1853 by the late Charles Loring Brace; incorp. 1855). Central office: 105 East 22nd St. Cares for homeless boys and girls in lodging houses; procures family homes for them in rural districts and in the West; maintains, in populous districts where the greatest poverty prevails, Industrial Schools and Kindergartens, designed to co-operate with the Board of Education in reaching and influencing the children of the poor who are unfitted to attend the Public Schools.

The fundamental principle of the Society and its governing motive is that of "self-help"—of teaching children how to help themselves. It also advocates that the "farmer's home" is the best possible place to shelter and rear the homeless, orphan, or outcast child. The work is supported by voluntary contributions, bequests, and public school fund, and by donations of provisions, clothing, etc.

Officers: William Church Osborn, Pres.; Wm. Douglas Sloane, Vice-Pres.; Edwin G. Merrill, Treas.; C. Loring Brace, Sec.; Matthew P. Adams, Supt. of Schools; H. J. Holt, Ass't. Treas.; Robert N. Brace, E. H. Opitz, Miss A. L. Hill, Miss A. A. Bogardus, Miss C. B. Comstock, Frederick King, and J. W. Swan, Agents.

Committee on Criminal Courts of the Charity Organization Society, Rooms 615-622, 105 East 22d St., N. Y. C. This Committee was organized with the definite purpose of aiding the administration of justice in the lower criminal courts. During the year 1910 the Page Commission secured the passage of a new inferior courts act, calculated to mark a distinct advance in the important work of these courts. The Charity Organization Society, feeling that the opportunity for helpful service had not ceased with the passage of this legislation, organized the Criminal Courts Committee to assist and co-operate with the magistrates and justices in securing the best possible results under the new law.

The keynote of the Committee's work is sympathetic co-operation with the judges, with the public, with social workers, with court clerks and city officials, and with the Legislature. It watches all legislation affecting the work of the inferior courts in New York City; it opposes undesirable amendments and drafts and supports desirable legislative amendments: it serves to bring to the aid of judges the force of public sentiment in behalf of needed changes; it makes careful surveys of specific problems connected with the work of the courts; it aids in securing necessary appropriations of the courts; it aids in securing necessary appropriations for reforms necessary to make the work of these courts effective.

There are ten sub-committees, as follows: General administration, domestic relations courts, night courts, probation, law and legislation, buildings, children's courts, Court of Special Sessions, record system and court records, and institutions.

Lawrence Veiller, Secretary; George Everson, Executive Secretary.

Committee of Fourteen, The, (org. 1905, incorp. 1907 as The Committee of Fourteen for the Suppression of Raines Law Hotels in New York City). Office, 27 East 22nd St., N. Y. C. (tel. Gramercy 5489).

The Raines Excise Law of 1896 limited the lawful sale of liquor on Sundays to hotels holding liquor tax certificates. To secure this valuable privilege, many saloons added the necessary hotel accommodations which, in default of a legitimate demand which did not exist, were turned to immoral uses. This Committee was organized to combat these evil conditions and in 1905 and 1906, it secured legislation which reduced by half the number of the liquor law hotels. Through effective co-operation with the brewers who control the places where their product is sold, the surety companies who issue the bond necessary under the law, and through further amendments of the law itself, the number of all hotels was much further reduced while the ten room hotels remaining are now all conducted for "men only". At the same time, saloons which had catered to prostitutes and those who sought them, were similarly compelled to change their business, until today (1914) no place can long continue to do such business undisturbed. The Committee's work was extended in 1910 to Brooklyn and in 1912 to Queens County, with equally good results. At the present time the Committee exercises a supervisory control of moral conditions in 90% of the hotels and saloons throughout the greater city. The Committee was reorganized in 1911 to repress all forms of Commercialized Sexual Vice. It endeavors to make effective the work of those departments of State and City government which are charged with the supervision of vice, and to effect further improvement through the business interests and owners.

In 1914 the Committee secured the passage in the Legislature of an Injunction and Abatement Law, a law which has proven effective in Iowa and other States. It is effective because by penalizing the property, the real profitor from vice, the owner, is reached.

The Committee investigates all complaints received of disorderly conditions and endeavors to promptly secure the removal of the causes of complaint.

Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis of the CHARITY ORGANIZATION SOCIETY, Rooms 615-622, 105 East 22d St., N. Y. C.

Field of Activity—Manhattan and the Bronx.

This Committee, composed of physicians and laymen, has for its objects:

1) Research: Research into the social, as distinct from the medical aspects of tuberculosis.

2) Education: The dissemination of knowledge through the publication of leaflets and pamphlets, the giving of lectures, the use of traveling exhibitions, and appropriate announcements in the press that tuberculosis is a communicable, preventable and curable disease, and of the means and methods to be adopted for its cure and prevention.

3) Treatment: The advancement of movement to provide for special hospitals, sanatoria and clinics for consumptives.

4) Legislation: An effort to secure the enactment of legislation looking toward the control of all recognized causes of contagion.

Its Methods are:

1) Investigation into the social aspects of tuberculosis. Study of institutions for the treatment of tuberculosis patients. Study of tuberculosis among different nationalities and races. Investigation of country employment for city consumptives. Study of possibilities of home treatment of tuberculosis sick in New York's tenement houses. Study in

New York City of the prevalence of tuberculosis among workers in certain industries based on medical examinations.

2) The publication of tuberculosis maxims on the back of street car transfers; millions annually circulated in this way. Distribution of circulars of advice regarding tuberculosis through labor unions, factories, department stores, settlements, churches, etc. Popular lectures on tuberculosis in English, Yiddish, Italian, Bohemian, Swedish, French and German. Instruction regarding tuberculosis by means of the stereopticon, and by moving picture exhibitions in the parks. Showing the Permanent Traveling Tuberculosis Exhibition in settlements, churches, clubs, etc., and in stores on crowded thoroughfares, viewed by a quarter of a million people a year. The organization of committees to work among various nationalities. The distribution of hundred of thousands of circulars, leaflets and pamphlets. The distribution of thousands of reports describing special investigations. The distribution in tenement houses of art posters with tuberculosis advice on them. Text books on tuberculosis and Special Tuberculosis Exhibits are prepared for the Public Schools. Observance of Tuberculosis Day by more than three hundred ministers.

3) The organization of special tuberculosis dispensaries. The organization of fresh air classes in public schools for children predisposed to tuberculosis. The formation of special classes for tuberculosis children, and for anemic children predisposed to tuberculosis. The medical examination of workers in different trades. The organization of the Association of Tuberculosis Clinics (q. v.). The formation of a nurses' association. Investigation of the adequacy of the existing hospital provision for the tuberculous sick and urging the City authorities to meet it more adequately.

4) The effort to secure the enactment of legislation looking toward the control of such recognized causes of contagion as spitting in public places, dry sweeping of streets; the use of work rooms in tenements for sleeping purposes, etc.

The Committee acts in conjunction with the departments of the City government and in co-operation with trade unions, church houses, settlements, lodges, clubs, etc.

Officers: Frank H. Mann, Secretary; R. N. Whaley, Assistant Secretary; F. Elisabeth Crowell, Exec. Secretary of the Association of Tuberculosis Clinics; Dwight E. Breed, Manager of Traveling Exhibition; Isabel E. Sanders, Supervisor Fresh Air Classes.

The district offices are neighborhood centers where committees made up of residents of the vicinity and representatives of the local social agencies consult in order to bring to the help of families needing assistance the maximum resources of the neighborhood. These committees also are frequently able to obviate abuses and improve living conditions in their territory. Stationed in each of the districts is a group of salaried and volunteer visitors who carry out the plans of the Committee for the welfare of the families under their care.

It is the policy of the Society to develop self-reliance and self-dependence in the families for which it cares, to help them out of their poverty, by removing obstacles from their paths and by offering them new opportunities for self-support and self-development.

This is done both by bringing to the aid of families their natural resources such as relatives, friends, neighbors, employers, churches, and also by stimulating and encouraging them through personal relationships established with them by members of the staff and by volunteer workers. The Society co-operates with the welfare agencies of the city, dispensaries, settlements, church societies, etc., so that each organization is able to do its share in carrying out plans agreed upon by all the agencies which are helping the same family.

THE COMPULSORY EDUCATION LAW of New York (Chap. 671, Laws of 1894, as amended in 1895, 1896 and 1903) provides as follows:

All children between seven and sixteen years of age in proper physical and mental condition are required to attend upon instructions, as in said law specifically stated, namely:

All children between seven and fourteen years of age must attend during the entire period the school attended is in session.

All children between fourteen and sixteen years of age must attend when not lawfully employed. Boys between 14 and 16 years of age, not attending day schools, who have not graduated from elementary schools must attend the evening schools for not less than six hours each week for a period of not less than sixteen weeks in each year.

An accurate record of the attendance of all children between seven and sixteen years of age must be kept by the teacher of every school, showing each day by the year, month, day of the month, and day of the week, of such attendance and the number of hours in each day thereof.

All persons in parental relation to such children are required to cause such children to attend upon instruction as specifically stated in the law, and neglect to do so is a misdemeanor, punishable by fine, or fine and imprisonment.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS are established by the State for the purpose of giving a free education to all children of the city over 4 years of age, except that children under 6 are received only in kindergarten classes.

THE EVENING SCHOOLS, held from Oct. to March are for those whose ages or vocations prevent their attendance at day schools. For admission to any of the elementary, high or evening schools apply to the Principal in charge.

THE TRUANT SCHOOLS to which pupils may be committed by the Board are:

Manhattan Truant School, 215 East 21st St.

Brooklyn Truant School, Jamaica Ave. and Enfield St.

New York Parental School, Jamaica Road, Flushing.

TRUANT OFFICERS, upon being notified that a child between seven and 16 years of age does not attend school, look up the case, and when all efforts to induce him to attend the public and other schools have proved ineffective use such power as the law gives them to compel attendance. All complaints of truancy should be addressed to the Division of Attendance, Board of Education, 154 East 68th St., N. Y. C.

SPECIAL CLASSES have been provided by the Board for children who are anaemic and predisposed to tuberculosis, for the blind, the deaf and for the crippled, etc.

THE FRESH AIR CLASSES are held on the roofs of buildings or in rooms specially constructed to give the children practically as much air as out of doors. The children are provided by the Board with proper clothing for protection against the cold. The Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis of the Charity Organization Society investigates and supervises the home conditions of such children. Apply to the Principal.

General Clergy Relief Fund (Will Title) of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America. Object: Pensioning of the clergy and their widows and orphans.

This fund and the DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY, stand together in the General Canons of the Church, as the only two general official societies so provided for The Church's Work and Her Workers.

The payment of the annual interest on funds collected specifically for Automatic Pensions was begun October 1st, 1911, to all clergy of the Church 64 or more years of age.

The General Convention recommends an annual offering from each church; a percentage of the communion alms and legacies and bequests.

This fund systematically secures and pays out to about 550 annuitants (clergy, widows, and orphans, the family unit), "upon the basis of need and character alone," without regard to age, diocese, or payment of premium or contributions, more money than any other organization in the Church attempting a like work and is the only fund of a majority of the dioceses merged with it, it therefore requires large and regular contributions both from churches and individuals.

The work of the department is organized according to the most modern conceptions of its duties in nine bureaus as follows: General Administration, Records, Sanitation, Infectious Diseases, Hospitals, Laboratories, Child Hygiene, Food Inspection, Public Health Education.

S. S. Goldwater, M.D., Commissioner.

THE BUREAU OF GENERAL ADMINISTRATION is concerned chiefly in keeping and authenticating the acts, records, papers and proceedings of the Department; preserving the books and papers of the Department and conducting its correspondence.

THE BUREAU OF RECORDS keeps on file all certificates of births, deaths, marriages, etc., makes searches and issues transcripts thereof, and prepares statistical tables based upon the certificates received.

THE SANITARY BUREAU deals with matters pertaining to general sanitation; maintains a corps of trained nurses, who visit cases of pulmonary tuberculosis reported to the Department. Private cases reported by the attending physician are not visited, unless the latter specifically requests it. The nurses note precautions taken against the spread of disease, the character of the ventilation, lighting and sanitary arrangements of their homes, and whether work (tailoring, etc.) is being done on the premises. They instruct the patient and the family as to the chief dangers of connection with pulmonary tuberculosis and how they may be avoided; the proper care and disposal of the sputum, and personal hygiene.

THE BUREAU OF INFECTIOUS DISEASES (tel. 6280 Franklin) has supervision and control of all communicable infectious diseases; the establishment and maintenance of proper quarantine in cases of certain infectious diseases; the administration of immunizing sera and vaccines; the registration of cases of tuberculosis; the maintenance of tuberculosis clinics and day camps (See Association of Tuberculosis Clinics) and the home supervision of cases of tuberculosis; the admission of tuberculous cases to sanatoria and hospitals (Tuberculosis Hospital Admission Bureau); the disinfection of infected premises and infected material; the maintenance of venereal clinics for the diagnosis of venereal diseases; the bacteriological examination of specimens for diagnosis.

THE BUREAU OF HOSPITALS maintains three hospitals for contagious diseases and a sanatorium for tuberculosis, as follows:

HOSPITALS.

Willard Parker and Reception Hospital, foot of East 16th St., Manhattan, for children and adults sick with contagious diseases and for a temporary care of patients awaiting transfer to other hospitals of the Department.

Kingston Avenue Hospital, Fenimore St., and Kingston Ave., Brooklyn, for the treatment of contagious diseases.

Riverside Hospital, North Brother Island, East River, for the care of contagious diseases and for advanced cases of tuberculosis. (Boats leave East 132nd St. dock every hour, and foot East 26th St. about noon, daily). Applications for admission of tubercular patients to be made to the Tuberculosis Hospital Admission Bureau, 426 First Ave., (q. v.).

Otisville Sanatorium (New York City Municipal Sanatorium), Otisville, N. Y., (Erie R. R., 75 miles from N. Y. Round trip fare $3.10), for early cases of tuberculosis. An important point in connection with the administration of the Sanatorium consists in requiring patients to render such services as their physical condition allows, as it has been found that carefully regulated work is of decided benefit in improving the physical condition of the patient.

Admission is made through the Tuberculosis Hospital Admission Bureau (q. v.) 426 First Ave.

THE BUREAU OF LABORATORIES works along various lines including: 1) The manufacture of biologic products for the diagnosis, prevention and treatment of disease. 2) The Clinical Department advises physicians in the use of the above products, and, when requested, administers the treatment to patients in their homes. 3) Chemical and bacteriologic examinations of water, milk and food (including shell fish). 4) Bacteriologic and epidemiologic investigations of local epidemics of various infectious diseases. 5) Serologic diagnosis of syphilis, gonorrhoea, glanders and other diseases. 6) Experimental work on infectious and other diseases.

THE BUREAU OF FOOD INSPECTION is charged with the inspection and supervision of the production, manufacture and sale of food of all kinds.

THE BUREAU OF PUBLIC HEALTH EDUCATION prepares and distributes weekly and monthly bulletins containing valuable information on subjects pertaining to health, prevention and treatment of diseases; issues instructive placards and posters; conducts free moving picture exhibitions in parks, recreation centers, etc. on health topics, etc.

THE BUREAU OF CHILD HYGIENE (org. 1908) is the first bureau established under municipal control to deal exclusively with health problems concerning children from birth to legal age. Its activities are as follows:

Control and supervision of the practice of midwives; investigation of cases of ophthalmia neonatorum; work directed against infant mortality through Infants' Milk Stations (see below); supervision of foundlings boarded out in private homes; inspection of institutions caring for dependent children; inspection of day nurseries; medical inspection and examination of school children; maintenance of hospitals and clinics (see Children's Clinics, below) for the medical and surgical treatment of diseases of the eyes, nose, throat and teeth found among school children; performance of vaccinations; issuance of employment certificates; investigations of still-births and of cases of puerperal septicaemia; special investigations of congenital deaths for research purposes; special work in checking up registry of births, etc.

The field work, including that of Infants' Milk Stations and Clinics for school children, consists of visits, physical examinations, lectures, consultations, treatments, operations (eye, nose and throat), investigations of applicants for permits. A staff of medical inspectors and nurses visit all babies whose births have been reported by widwives, and instruct the mothers in the proper care of babies. They canvass tenements and instruct all mothers of babies less than a year old. Educational centers are established throughout the city where clinics are conducted by physicians and nurses to demonstrate proper feeding, clothing, preparation of milk, etc. Little Mothers' Leagues, consisting of girls over 12 years of age, are formed during the summer for educational purposes. Tickets for free ice, modified or pasteurized milk, outings, etc., are distributed.

Health Officer's Department, Port of New York. This department was established in 1758 under the Colonial government in New York. Its present authority is found in the public health law of the State of New York and the quarantine statutes of the United States. Its address is Quarantine Boarding Station, Rosebank, Staten Island, N. Y. The purpose of the establishment is to prevent the importation as an incident of maritime commerce of the port of New York of diseases of a highly contagious or infectious nature likely to manifest themselves in violent epidemic form.

The scope of the work comprises the examination of all vessels and all passengers from foreign ports, or from ports under the jurisdiction of the United States where epidemic diseases are known to exist; and the detention at the two quarantine islands, Hoffman and Swinburne, in the lower bay, of persons who have been exposed thereto until the period of incubation of the disease in question has expired.

The jurisdiction of the Health Officer of the Port of New York extends over the port of New York and throughout the State of New York. A branch office is maintained at City Island on Long Island Sound for the examination of vessels and passengers entering the port by way of the Sound.

Dr. Joseph J. O'Connell is Health Officer of the Port of New York and in control of the department.

Hebrew Sheltering Guardian Society of New York Orphan Asylum, The, (Founded 1879). Since July 1st 1912, at Pleasantville, Westchester County, N. Y. Has seventeen cottages with individual kitchens and dining-rooms, thirty children in each cottage; has also three school buildings, superintendent's cottage, cottage for assistant superintendent and principal reception house for new children, general hospital, contagious hospital, power house, and laundry. Present number of children in Pleasantville about 600.

One of its unique features is its educational curriculum; the entire elementary and high school work is covered within a period of nine years. One hundred fifty out of the 600 children receive a high school education, and 400 children are given a vocational or technical training. Simultaneously with regular scholastic work, boys are obliged to take up for six years drawing and woodwork; for four years machine work; for three years electricity, and for two years shorthand and typewriting. Girls are obliged to take up for 6 years drawing and sewing; for 4 years embroidery and domestic science; for 3 years millinery and dressmaking, and for two years shorthand and typewriting.

Cottage Mothers must have requisite educational, cultural and executive qualifications. The children do all housework and cooking. They maintain seventeen miniature republics in their cottages, and two larger republics, known as the Boys' and Girls' Republics.

The after-care work of the institution is done by a separate organization called Fellowship House, (q. v.) at 32 West 115th Street. Henry Street Settlement (est. 1893 as The Nurses Settlement; incorp. as Henry Street Settlement, 1903). Main office: 265 Henry Street. With other settlements co-operating, maintains a visiting nursing service with a staff of trained nurses to give professional care under the physicians' direction, to the sick who cannot or who should not go to hospitals; also to instruct their families or friends in their care and in hygiene of the person and home. The nursing service covers Manhattan and the Bronx, and is highly organized. Separate staffs maintained for ordinary illness, for obstetrical cases and for contagious diseases. Fees charged according to the circumstances of the individual patient and at the discretion of the nurse. Many of the nurses reside in the districts in which they work, either in the Henry Street houses or at the various branches or in other settlements. As far as possible, they are in other ways identified with the neighborhood interests. In several of the branches a trained nurse is in charge of a dressing-office where patients not confined to the house are treated. This is a fea-

Hospital for Deformities and Joint Diseases (1905), 1919 Madison Ave, N. Y. C. Dr. Henry W. Frauenthal, Physician and Surgeon-in-Chief. O

Treatment is extended to all persons, regardless of age, race, creed or color, suffering with acute and chronic joint diseases or any deformity, congenital or acquired. Free beds to the poor; no charge for splints or apparatus to the indigent. Capacity of 70 beds.

THE OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT (clinic) varies from 150 to 275 patients daily: 40% of these are cases of Infantile Paralysis, who receive massage and electric treatment, with muscle education before a mirror; forty people are required to give treatments in this clinic, including physicians, nurses, masseurs and physical culture teachers.

A NEW DISPENSARY, with a capacity to treat 500 patients, has been constructed at 41 and 43 East 123rd Street. In the basement is a department for the manufacture of shoes for painful and flat feet; also a shop for constructing braces and apparatus. On the first floor, will be found a large waiting room with eight rooms devoted to the application of plaster. On the second floor is a waiting room for males, and a waiting room for females, with twelve rooms for the examination and treatment of chronic joint condition. The third floor is devoted to the treatment of massage and electricity for cases of Infantile Paralysis with a large waiting room for the parents. On the fourth floor is a large room for the treatment of painful feet with supports and Zander exercises, etc. This room is also equipped with Tyranauer electrical bakers for stiffened and painful joints. On this floor there is also installed a dental department in connection with the department for acute joint diseases. On the fifth floor is a male and female department for muscle education before a mirror. On the sixth floor will be found an operating room, anaesthetising room, pus operating room, plaster room, X-Ray and photographic department and chemical and pathological laboratory.

Funds are now being raised, as follows:

$40,000. to wipe out our existing mortgage: to use the interest paid thereto towards the general expenditures of the Hospital.

$250,000. to build and equip, on our present site, an Institution to meet our demands for children and adult beds, with proper space for electrical, mechanical and therapeutical departments, also a physiological, mechanical and pathological laboratory, and room for our nurses and administrative department.

$100,000. for a pathological department: the income of which will be used for the investigation of acute and chronic joint conditions, to develop the salient points in differential diagnosis.

$100,000. as an endowment fund, for the purchase of braces and apparatus for the worthy poor.

$25,000. as an endowment fund, to maintain a visiting nurses staff, to visit patients at their homes.

Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association of New York City (org. 1879, incorp. 1897), Room 412, United Charities Building, 105 East 22d St. Object: 1. To obtain benevolent gifts for the hospitals of New York; 2. To further methods of economy and to co-ordinate and extend the work of the hospitals. The funds raised are distributed among the 47 associated hospitals in proportion to the number of days of free treatment given by each hospital during the year, combined with the per capita cost per day, ascertained through carefully audited reports made directly to the Association by the hospitals upon uniform schedules which cover in detail, work, income and expenses.

As its name suggests, the Association sought, at the outset, only to take a collection in synagogues and churches on the last Saturday and Sunday of the year. The present activities have far outgrown these original limits, and the bulk of receipts are now from secular sources.

Days of free treatment given last year by the associated hospitals, 1,312,895. Hospital bed patients, 113,536; dispensary cases, 612,038; total, 725,574 cases cared for. Raised by the Association, year ending Sept. 30th, 1914, $133,844.58.

Attorney in Chief: Leonard McGee.

The purpose of this society is to render legal aid, gratuitously, if necessary, to all who may appear worthy thereof, and who are unable to procure assistance elsewhere, and to promote measures for their protection. In cases where the applicant is able to pay it, a retainer fee of ten cents is charged and in some cases a legal fee of 15 cents; in cases of money collections, exceeding $5 the society retains ten per cent as a commission. This legal charitable society co-operates with all the charitable organizations and societies in this city. Supported by voluntary contributions. It publishes The Legal Aid Review, a quarterly containing a statistical report and interesting information about the Society's work.

The annual report for 1913 shows that during the year 39,189 persons were aided at the several offices of the society and collections for clients amounted to $138,046.38. From the time of its inception up to January 1, 1914, the society has taken care of the claims of 460,874 applicants, and by its efforts, $2,036,550.45 have been obtained in their behalf and paid over to them.

Metropolitan Museum of Art, The, (incorp. 1870), Central Park at Fifth Ave. and 82d St., N. Y. C. Purposes:

To establish and maintain in the City of New York a Museum and Library of Art.

To encourage and develop the study of fine arts, and the application of the arts to manufactures and practical life.

To advance the general knowledge of kindred subjects, and, to that end, to furnish popular instruction.

These aims, with their evident emphasis on the possible value of the Museum to all the people, not to a few, underlie the Museum policy of today. "General knowledge," "popular instruction," "application of the arts to practical life"; these the Museum stands for. It is a private corporation governed by a Board of Trustees, and derives its income from the following sources: A yearly grant from the City of New York; contributions from its various grades of members, and the income from its endowment funds.

The Museum's collections cover all periods in the history of art. The Library contains about 27,000 volumes and a large number of photographs illustrative of the art of all periods. They are housed in buildings owned by the City and leased to the corporation. The Museum is open daily from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M., to 10 P.M. on Saturday, and is free to the public except on Monday and Friday, when an admission fee of 25 cents is charged. Sketching and snapshot photography are permitted in the galleries. Permits to copy are issued upon request and every facility afforded to students and classes visiting the Museum for purposes of study.

Object: The National Bible Institute was formed under the conviction that there are large numbers of people in New York and other large American cities, unreached with the Gospel. Its aim is to publish the Gospel as widely as possible and to bring as many of these unevangelized people as possible to a saving knowledge of Christ. This is done by means of daily out-door and in-door evangelistic meetings, by the printed page, and by training Christian workers through Bible Study and active participation in evangelistic service.

Character: It is Evangelical and Interdenominational. Its Board of Directors is composed of Christian men from Protestant Evangelical denominations, and the co-operation of all earnest Christians is invited and welcomed.

Organization: It is incorporated under the laws of the State of New York and is governed by a Board of Directors.

Support: It is entirely supported by free-will offerings.

New York City Sunday School Association (org. 1816; incorp. 1909), Room 218, 21st floor, Metropolitan Tower, N. Y. C. An incorporated interdenominational association composed of the Sunday-schools of Manhattan and the Bronx, the purpose of which is to increase the efficiency of the Sunday-schools, promote co-operation, and furnish inspiration. It is supported by voluntary contributions of individuals, churches and Sunday-schools. All contributions should be sent to the office of the Association and made payable to the treasurer.

The Association is managed through a Board of Directors composed of educators, ministers, and business men, all experienced in Sunday-school work, representing the various denominations. The active direction is in the hands of Mr. Herbert L. Hill, a Sunday-school expert, giving his entire time to the Association, employed by and under the Board of Directors.

Officers: James C. Egbert, Pres.; Edward R. Finch, Vice-Pres.; James G. Cannon, Treas.; William W. Hall, Chairman, Board of Directors; Herbert L. Hill, Gen. Sec.

The work is carried on through the Graded Union, Superintendents' Club, Secretaries' Union, Training Department, and conventions, institutes, and district meetings, also a Bureau of Information is maintained in the office. The Association serves each Sunday-school in Manhattan and the Bronx in any way possible, by counsel or help in their work.

THE TRAINING DEPARTMENT conducts an Institute every Monday evening for twenty-four weeks during the winter, where instruction is given for workers in every department of the Sunday-school. It promotes the establishment of Teacher Training Classes in individual schools or groups of schools; training and furnishing teachers for such purposes when desired. Also conducts Teachers Classes for the study of the Uniform Lesson for the following Sunday.

THE GRADED UNION conducts a Training Class in Story Telling the first Tuesday afternoon of each month from 3 to 5 o'clock at 7 Gramercy Park, West, corner 20th Street. A program of topical and Bible stories is provided for each meeting with analyses given by a specialist and lists of stories suggested. Practice work in story telling is done by the members of the Union. Visitors are welcome at every meeting. The Graded Union also assist in the Institutes and District Conventions held in various churches in different sections of the city. It is the aim of the Union in this work to reach the teachers in these different localities who have not found it convenient to attend meetings held regularly in the same place. All Sunday-school workers, parents, and others interested in the religious education of children are most cordially invited to join the Union. Membership $1.00 per year.

New York School of Philanthropy, The, United Charities Building, 105 East 22d St., N. Y. C. Edward T. Devine, Director.

The School is conducted by the Charity Organization Society and is affiliated with Columbia University, and is primarily a professional training school for civic and social work. It aims to give fundamental courses of instruction and of field work which will prepare for usefulness in any of the rapidly multiplying kinds of organized social movement and for efficiency in those governmental positions, national, state, and municipal, which have to do directly with the promotion and protection of social welfare.

CURRICULUM: The course extends throughout the academic year from October to May inclusive, for a period of two years. The work of the two years is sharply differentiated: the instruction of the first year includes only courses which are believed to be valuable to all who are expecting to engage in any kind of social work on either a professional or a volunteer basis, with opportunity for specialization in field work; in the second year the work is strictly vocational and specialized.

Certain courses are given in the late afternoon and evening for the benefit of those who are regularly occupied during the day. Six institutes were held in 1914.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION: In grade and character the instruction in the School of Philanthropy is comparable to that in other graduate professional schools. While a college diploma is not definitely required for admission, it is expected that candidates shall present evidence of adequate preparation for serious professional study.

Elementary acquaintance with history, civics, economics, and ability to write simple English clearly and correctly, are assumed in the courses of instruction, and a knowledge of elementary physiology, biology, and psychology is very desirable. What is especially desired is trained and receptive intelligence, capacity to use the mind. An entrance examination is required of all regular students.

Candidates under twenty-one years of age, or over thirty-five, are admitted only for exceptional reasons. New students may enter only at the beginning of the academic year.

Satisfactory credentials are expected as to character, health, and earnestness of purpose.

A limited number of persons who are not candidates for the diploma or for a certificate may be admitted as auditors to certain courses.

FEES AND EXPENSES: The tuition for the two years' course is $150, payable in three installments of $50 each. Students taking less than the year's full work pay at the rate of $7.50 per hour per term.

STAFF (1914-15): Edward T. Devine, Development of Social Work; Samuel McCune Lindsay, Social Legislation; Mary Grace Worthington, Field Work; Kate Holladay Claghorn, Statistics; Porter R. New York State Commission for the Blind, The, (created by Chapter 415 of the Laws of 1913), 105 West 40th St., N. Y. C. The Commission consists at present of four members; one member has been appointed for a term of five years, one for a term of four years, one for a term of three years, and one for a term of two years. Appointees to the Commission at the expiration of the terms of the present members of the Commission will serve for five years each. The members of the Commission receive no compensation for their services, but are entitled to necessary and reasonable travelling expenses.

Members of the Commission: John H. Finley, Chairman, Albany; Miss Lucille A. Goldthwaite, Recorder, New York; Herbert L. Satterlee, New York; George B. Burd, Buffalo; and Clarence M. Abbott, Secretary, whom address.

The Commission maintains a

REGISTER OF THE BLIND, in the State of New York, which describes the condition, causes of blindness, capacity for education and industrial training of each, with such other facts as seem to the Commission to be of value. A Bureau of Information and Industrial Aid, through home teaching of blind adults, is instructing them in industrial and other pursuits as well as reading. At its cost, sends blind people with special capacity for instruction to workshops for training in broom making, chair caning, weaving, etc. The Commission has also designated a number of philanthropic associations of, or for, the blind in the state as similar bureaus of the Commission, thus establishing co-operation. Its field workers and home teachers are blind or partial sighted. Special efforts are made to dispose of the products of the blind through departments in large stores and in other ways. The Commission also assists blind persons in undertaking mercantile occupations which in encouraging measure have produced self-support for the sightless.

The Commission makes inquiries concerning the causes of blindness to learn what proportion of these cases is preventable and inaugurates and co-operates in preventive measures in the State of New York. A bi-monthly ink print bulletin is issued by the Commission concerning its work as well as one in tactile print for the blind. The Commission also publishes a Journal at irregular intervals which discusses various phases of work for the blind and for the prevention of blindness. The Commission makes to the Governor and to the Legislature on or before the first day of January of each year, a report of its proceedings up to and including the 30th day of September preceding.

New York State Conference of Charities and Correction, (1914). To afford an opportunity for those engaged in charitable and reform work to confer respecting their methods, principles of administration and results accomplished, to diffuse information respecting charitable and correctional work, and encourage co-operation in humanitarian efforts, with the aim of further improving the system of charity and correction in the State of New York.

The Conference holds an annual meeting in the State of New York, at a place agreed upon at the preceding annual session, at which addresses are made, papers read, discussions carried on, and general business transacted in accordance with the by-laws of the Constitution. The sixteenth session will be held in Albany in November, 1915.

All who have an active interest in the charitable or correctional work in New York State are invited to enroll themselves as members of the Conference. No other tests of membership are applied. There is no membership fee, but the publication of proceedings and other necessary expenses amount to about $2 per year for each member.

People's University Extension Society of New York, The, (incorp. 1898), 105 East 17th St., N. Y. C. Maintains free classes in manual and domestic training and other practical subjects for the poor of all races and creeds of Greater New York. During one year, the total attendance at its free classes was over 220,000; more than 85,000 mothers attended its lectures on the care of children. In one year this Society gave 4,928 free lessons in manual training and corrective physical exercises to classes of crippled children, 2,496 lessons to classes of blind persons, 744 lessons to mentally defective children, 840 lessons to girls confined in reformatories, 156 lessons in correction of speech defects and many lessons to deaf-mutes and neurological patients, besides giving 12,652 free lessons in manual training and domestic science and art, to normal poor children of all races.

The People's University Extension Society gives local societies the educational help they need by furnishing trained teachers of hygiene, sanitation, elementary manual training, physical training, economic cooking, sewing, dress-making, millinery, basketry, carving, ironwork, chair caning, carpentry, American history, civics, and other practical subjects. It has helped more than 1,000 Societies with free classes, and has distributed over 425,000 pamphlets in various languages to more than 500 English, Hebrew, German, Italian, and Bohemian Societies in New York City. Appeals to the Society for free instruction have increased so much faster than contributions for expenses, that many important classes have had to stop for lack of money to pay teachers. Numerous other classes urgently called for will begin as soon as funds permit.

Its work is carried on throughout the year, special attention being given in summer to teaching mothers how to prevent warm-weather diseases which cause such great infant mortality. This is essentially a missionary educational work. Supported by voluntary contributions. Its annual report will be sent free on request.

Probation Officers (provided for by Article 6, Chap. 659, Laws of New York, 1910). This law directs that the Chief Justice of the Court of Special Sessions shall appoint a Chief Probation Officer, and similarly each Chief City Magistrate shall appoint a Chief Probation Officer. The law also provides that on and after the first day of September, 1910, no police officer shall be designated as a probation officer.

George D. McKay, Chief Probation Officer Magistrates' Courts, First Division, 300 Mulberry St., N. Y. C. (tel. 8713 Spring).

The duties of the Chief Probation Officers are prescribed by the Chief Justice and each Chief City Magistrate. The civilian male and female probation officers of the Court of Special Sessions of the First and Second Divisions and the female probation officers of the Board of City Magistrates of the First Division and the female probation officers and civilian male probation officers of the Board of City Magistrates of the Second Division continue in office unless and until removed as provided by this act. Provision is also made that in addition to the above probation officers continued as above described, civilian probation officers may be appointed from a Civil Service eligible list. Examinations for probation officer are held by the MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION (q. v.).

The Chief Probation Officer and all other probation officers shall be deemed the confidential officers of the Justices and Magistrates. All the powers and duties conferred upon probation officers by the Code of Criminal Procedure are continued under the new law. Probation Officers are required to keep such records and conform to such rules as are established by the Justices or the respective Boards of City Magistrates.

An adult convicted of a misdemeanor may be placed on probation for such time as the Court of Special Sessions may deem proper, not longer, however, than two years. An adult convicted of an offense of which a Magistrate has summary jurisdiction may be placed on probation for such time as the Magistrate may deem proper, not longer, however, than one year.

A child may be placed on probation for such time as the Justice holding the Children's Court may deem proper, not longer, however, than three years, and such probation period may extend beyond the time such child attains the age of 16 years. There may be a revocation of probation at any time within the maximum periods hereinbefore mentioned. The adult or child may then be brought to Court for such sentence or disposition as the Court may deem best. During the period that the adult or child is on probation he is ordinarily required to report at stated intervals to the probation officer having direct charge of his case, as well as to the Court. Probation officers are required to visit the homes of adults or children on probation and report to the Chief Probation Officer full facts regarding the progress of the probationer. The Chief Probation Officer then reports to the Court.

There are various volunteer agencies assisting in the handling of cases of children who have been arraigned in court. These agencies in New York County are, notably, the Association of Catholic Charities, the Big Brother Movement, the Jewish Big Brothers, and the Brooklyn Juvenile Probation Association. These agencies not only assist in probation cases but in all cases that need attention.

PERSONS SEEKING EMPLOYMENT in skilled occupations may send for application blank, enclosing stamp for reply, stating definitely the kind of employment preferred. All others can be best served by calling at the office. The office reserves the right to give preference to applicants experienced in the opportunity open, and who can furnish written references as to experience and habits.

EMPLOYERS should make application to the office by mail, telephone, or in person, giving full name of individual, or firm, and if a corporation, the title; to whom, when, and where, the help wanted should apply, giving adequate information as to the nature of the employment offered, wages, hours of labor, etc.

Better results can usually be obtained by calling at the office and talking personally with applicants for employment, with whom an interview may be arranged, provided reasonable notice is given. Farm hands, hotel and restaurant help, and laborers can be more readily secured by calling at the office before 10 A.M. on appointment. Day workers can be more readily secured by applying at 8 A.M. Housework girls can be more readily secured by calling at the office between 1 and 3 P.M., excepting Saturdays.

The Board is required by law to visit, inspect and maintain a general supervision of all institutions, societies, or associations which are of a charitable, eleemosynary, correctional, or reformatory character, whether State or municipal, incorporated or not incorporated, excepting prisons and reformatories in which adult males convicted of felony are confined, and hospitals and asylums for the insane, and to make an annual report to the Legislature.

The following powers and duties are specially enumerated in the statutes:

1. To aid in securing the just, humane, and economic administration of all institutions subject to its supervision.

2. To advise the officers of such institutions in the performance of their official duties.

3. To aid in securing the erection of suitable buildings and for the accommodation of the inmates of the institutions aforesaid.

4. To approve or not approve the organization and incorporation of institution of a charitable, eleemosynary, correctional or reformatory character, as authorized by law.

5. To investigate the management of all institutions made subject to the supervision of the Board, and the conduct and efficiency of the officers or persons charged with their management, and the care and relief of the inmates of such institutions therein or in transit.

6. To secure the best sanitary conditions of the buildings and grounds of all such institutions, and to protect and preserve the health of the inmates.

7. In the case of institutions having the care of children, to aid in securing the establishment and maintenance of such industrial, educational, and moral training as is best suited to the needs of the inmates.

8. In accordance with the provisions of section 14 of article VIII of the Constitution, to establish rules for the reception and retention of inmates of all institutions therein described which are subject to the Board's supervision.

9. To investigate the condition of the poor seeking public aid, and advise measures for their relief.

10. To administer the laws providing for the care, support, and removal of State and alien paupers and the support of pauper Indians.

11. To collect statistical information in respect to the property, receipts, and expenditures of all institutions, societies and associations subject to the supervision of the Board, and the number and condition of the inmates thereof, and the poor receiving public relief.

12. Prevent evils and abuses in connection with the placing out of children, and issue licenses to such persons or corporations applying for the same as in the judgment of the Board are proper persons or corporations to be entrusted with power to place out destitute children.

13. Issue licenses to dispensaries and revoke the same for cause.

14. Examine and approve or disapprove the plans for almshouses and additions and improvements thereto.

All persons obstructing the Board in the performance of the above powers and duties are liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each act of neglect or refusal.

State Department of Education, The, Albany, N. Y. John Huston Finley, Commissioner. The Board of Regents was established and incorporated by act of the Legislature in 1784. It consists of 12 Regents who are elected, one each year, by the Legislature in joint session, as provided for by the Constitution of the State. The Board constitutes and governs as a corporate body

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK. This is the most comprehensive educational organization in the world. It includes in its constituent membership and has under its supervision all public schools of the State, and also, in the terms of the law, includes, as institutions of the University, all secondary and higher educational institutions which are now or may hereafter be incorporated in this State, and such other libraries, museums, institutions, schools, organizations and agencies for education as may be admitted to or incorporated by the University. By law the State Library and State Museum are specifically departments of the University, and the Regents are authorized to establish such other departments and divisions therein as they shall deem useful in the discharge of their duties.

Among their specific powers, the Regents are authorized to exercise legislative functions concerning the educational system of the State; to determine its educational policies, and make rules for carrying into effect the laws relating to education and the powers of the University. They have exclusive power to incorporate educational institutions and organizations; they may confer degrees and regulate their issuance within the State; they have power to visit and inspect educational institutions of the State, conduct examinations therein and require reports therefrom; they register domestic and foreign educational institutions and fix the value of degrees, diplomas and certificates from all parts of the world, when presented for entrance to schools, colleges, universities and the professions; they may establish and stimulate educational extension work and conduct examinations and grant credentials therein, and they supervise the entrance requirements to the professions of law, medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, pharmacy, optometry, the certification of nurses, public accountants, chiropodists and certified shorthand reporters.

The chief officers of the University are the Chancellor St. Clair McKelway, of Brooklyn; the President of the University, John Huston Finley, of Albany, who is also the Commissioner of Education and thereby the chief executive officer of the entire State educational system. As Commissioner, he also has judicial power to hear and finally determine appeals from the action of school officers and authorities.

ASSISTANT COMMISSIONERS OF EDUCATION.

The Assistant Commissioner for Higher Education: has charge of higher education including matters relating to universities, colleges, professional and technical schools and to the execution of educational laws concerning the professions.

The Assistant Commissioner for Secondary Education: has charge of secondary education including matters relating to academies, academic departments, academic schools, high schools, and the training of teachers therefor; also has charge of matters relating to the State College for Teachers and to the University scholarships.

The Assistant Commissioner for Elementary Education: has charge of elementary education, including matters relating to all schools below the academic grade and the training of teachers therefor; has general supervision of normal schools, teachers' training schools and classes, teachers' certificates, district superintendents, and the State medical inspection of schools.

DEPARTMENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The State Library: established in 1818; placed in the custody and control of the Regents in 1889; an integral part of the State educational system. Before its almost total destruction in the disastrous fire of March 29, 1911, it ranked fifth among the great libraries in the country, and first among State libraries, and was especially rich in the departments of law, American history, genealogy, education, bibliography and medicine. An appropriation of a million and a quarter dollars was made for the restoration of the State Library, which is being rapidly accomplished. It is in close touch with the public and reference libraries of the State, and seeks to give all possible help and stimulation.

The Department of Science: has the custody of the State Museum and includes the work of the State Geologist and Paleontologist, the State Botanist, the State Entomologist, the State Mineralogist, the State Zoologist, the Archeologist, the Taxidermist, and the other assistants upon the scientific staff. The State Museum is the depositary of the State's scientific collections, which are extensive and valuable.

UNIVERSITY DIVISIONS.

The Administration Division is charged with the responsibility of the financial and business affairs of the University. The special activities of the Division have to do with finances, publications and printing, and general supervision of the Department staff. The Division prepares the annual budgets of the University for the appropriation and supply bills, certifies to all budgets before payment, conducts all correspondence with the Civil Service Commission relative to new appointments and promotions of employees, and endeavors to relieve the President of the University of many matters of executive detail both in correspondence and in administrative routine. The various sections of the Division have to do with the following work: accounts, editing and printing, receipt and distribution of mail, office supplies and publications, general files, and the care of the State Education Building.

Attendance Division: has charge of the execution of the compulsory education law throughout the State. This law provides that in all districts of less than 5,000 inhabitants every child between 8 and 16 years of age, in proper physical and mental condition, shall, for each full school year, attend upon instruction at a school in which at least the six common school branches of reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, English grammar and geography are taught in English, unless equivalent instruction is given by competent teachers elsewhere. In cities and school districts having a population of 5,000 or over and employing a superintendent of schools, every child between 7 and 16 years of age must attend upon instruction the entire time the school attended is in session. Under the provisions of the law a child between 14 and 16 years of age who has complied with certain specific requirements as to attendance and education acquirements may receive an employment certificate and leave school for useful work.

Division of Educational Extension: is charged with the promotion and supervision of public libraries and of all educational work aided or encouraged by the State which is not within the field of established formal public education and which has not been assigned to some other department or division of the University. Among its activities are the educational extension work heretofore done under the names of University extension, extension teaching and home education; the lending of traveling libraries; aiding and encouraging study clubs and special students, and all suitable efforts to bring within the reach of the people at large, increased opportunities and facilities for education and awaken their desire therefor.

Examinations Division: charged with the supervision of all the State examinations; edits, prints and distributes questions prepared by a State Examinations Board for examinations in the high schools of the State and rates the papers received therefrom; conducts examinations for teachers' certificates; has charge of examinations for State scholarships in Cornell University; awards and issues the University scholarships to certain college students; determines and certifies to the required preliminary education of students entering upon the study of law, medicine, dentistry, optometry, pharmacy, veterinary medicine, chiropody, and for those wishing to become certified public accountants, certified shorthand reporters, and registered nurses; with the aid of State boards appointed by the Regents conducts examinations for licenses to practice medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, optometry, pharmacy, chiropody, and for the titles of registered nurse, certified public accountants and shorthand reporters; and passes upon credentials from educational institutions in this and foreign countries.

Division of History: collects, collates, compiles, edits and prepares for publication all official records, memoranda, statistics and data relative to the history of the Colony and State of New York when authorized by the Commissioner of Education; in collaboration with the Division of Public Records, prepares for publication the official records, archives or papers of any of the civil subdivisions of the State, and also such other archives, records, papers and manuscripts, as in the judgment of the State Historian and Commissioner of Education it shall be for the best interests of the State to publish for the preservation of the State's history.

Inspections Division: charged with the duty of inspecting schools of every grade and kind; its officers visit universities, colleges, technical and professional schools, normal schools, training schools, academic institutions and common schools wherever practicable; receives reports from inspectors in the field and conducts correspondence thereupon with school authorities.

Law Division: has charge of correspondence relating to the construction and execution of the education laws of the State; is counsel for the University in appeals which come before the Commissioner of Education; looks after the form and effect of educational bills introduced in the Legislature, and represents the University in the courts when involved in any litigation.

Public Records Division: is charged with the duty of examining into the condition of the records, books and documents or other papers filed or recorded in the several public offices of the counties, cities, towns, villages or other political divisions of the State, and all other public records, books, pamphlets, documents, manuscripts, archives, maps and papers heretofore or hereafter required by law to be kept by any public body, board, institution or society, in the said or other political divisions of the State, except where such authority conflicts with the duties of the office of the Commissioner of Records in the counties of Kings and New York. The Division is also enjoined to take all necessary measures for the proper inscription, the retrieval, the care and the preservation of the mentioned public records.

School Libraries Division: has general supervision of school libraries; advises in regard to their selection of books; examines and passes upon all lists of books submitted by school authorities as bases for monetary duplication by the State, and also passes upon lists of maps and globes for elementary schools intended for similar duplication.

State Library School: offers a two years' course in library science, admitting only college graduates, and confers degrees of bachelor and master of library science. Its present Director is now also Director of the State Library.

Statistics Division: receives and tabulates reports from every State educational institution; calculates the apportionment of State moneys to all school districts and educational institutions entitled thereto.

Vocational Schools Division: has charge of State aided vocational instruction, which was first established in this State in 1908. The law, as since amended, now provides for general industrial schools, trade schools, schools of agriculture, mechanic arts and homemaking, part-time or continuation schools and evening vocational schools. The Division is charged with the administration of this law throughout the State, and also with the supervision of manual training, drawing, cooking, and sewing as included in the elementary field of education.

Division of Visual Instruction: is charged with the circulation of lantern slides, hand photographs and wall pictures in the schools of the State and to study clubs. Lantern slides, and photographs and wall pictures are loaned at a nominal cost and are distributed widely over the State.

State Department of Health, Albany, N. Y. Chap. 559. Laws of 1913, amending the Public Health Law generally, effected many changes in the organization and powers of the State Department of Health. The Public Health Council created. Council consists of six members appointed by the Governor in addition to the Commissioner. Public Health Council authorized to enact a Sanitary Code dealing with any matters affecting life and health and their improvement and preservation including regulation of midwifery and promotion of health on Indian reservations. Sanitary Code to have force and effect of law and violation may be declared a misdemeanor.

The Commissioner of Health, head of the Department, office in the Capitol, Albany, N. Y., has cognizance of interests of health and life of the people. Makes inquiries with respect to causes of disease, especially epidemics and investigates effect of various conditions on the public health. Is charged with enforcement of the Public Health Law and the Sanitary Code. Maintains divisions with a Director in charge of each including Vital Statistics and Sanitary Engineering Divisions. Regulates transportation of dead bodies. Exercises general supervision of all cold-storage business and maintains regular inspection of all warehouses. Has divided State into sanitary districts with Sanitary Supervisor over each who reports to Commissioner.

Commissioner may remove local health officer for cause. May sit with local boards to examine questions of public nuisances and report the same to the Governor. Approves plans for sewerage in all public institutions and inspects same each year. Has general supervision over the purity of potable water supplies. May make rules to protect the same from pollution. Sewage not to be discharged into public waters without permit from Commissioner. So also industrial wastes. Plans for all such works discharging waste into public waters must be approved by Sanitary Engineering Division. May hold hearings regarding pollution of public waters and creation of nuisance thereby and give orders for the abatement and removal of the same subject to approval of Governor and Attorney General.

Together with health officer the Commissioner must pass on petitions for consent to establish tuberculosis hospitals. Must pass on plans for all county tuberculosis hospitals. Has authority to enter and inspect all structures at any time for purpose of making sanitary inspections. Is empowered to look into the enforcement of the Housing Law and must issue employment certificates required by the Labor Law to permit children to work in factories or mercantile establishments. Maintains Hygienic Laboratory for making analyses and for distribution of antitoxins for use in State Institutions and to persons unable to purchase the same. State Probation Commission, The, (created by Chap. 430, Laws of 1907; now Consolidated Laws, Chap. 56, Secs. 30-31) The Capitol, Albany. The Commission consists of seven members, four appointed by the Governor for terms of four years each, one appointed by the State Board of Charities from among its members, one appointed by the State Commission of Prisons from among its members, and the State Commissioner of Education, member ex-officio. The Commissioners serve without compensation, except traveling expenses. The Commission appoints a secretary who is the chief executive officer of the Commission and other employees within the sums allowed by the Legislature, the latter being appointed under the civil service.

Commissioners: Homer Folks (New York), Pres.; Frank E. Wade (Buffalo), Vice-Pres.; Edward C. Blum (Brooklyn), Edmond J. Butler (New York), Alphonso T. Clearwater (Kingston), Nicholas M. Peters (Syracuse) and John H. Finley (Albany). Charles L. Chute, Sec., to whom address communications at the office.

The Commission grew out of the work of a special probation commission appointed in 1905 for the purpose of investigating the probation system in the State and making recommendations for its improvement. This special commission discovered the need for State supervision of the growing probation work in the State and recommended that such be established.

The chief duties of the Commission, as prescribed by statute, are to exercise general supervision over the work of probation officers and to keep informed as to their work; to collect and publish statistical and other information as to the operations of the probation system; to inquire, from time to time, into the conduct and efficiency of probation officers, and, when advisable, to conduct a formal investigation of the work of any probation officer; to make recommendations and to secure the effective application of the probation system and the enforcement of the probation law in all parts of the State. The Commission makes an annual report to the Legislature, showing its proceedings and the results of the probation system as administered in the various localities in the State and making suggestions and recommendations. The Commission in the discharge of its duties has access to all offices and records of probation officers, and may direct formal investigations of the work of any probation officer.

The Home is one of the Special Works of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul (q. v.) Particular Council of New York and has been established for the physical upbuilding of poor, dependent women and girls, as specified in the following classifications: 1) Respectable mothers who are convalescing after child-birth or any other illness, who may be as yet too weak to again undertake the labor of caring for home and family; 2) Women or girls discharged from hospitals or from the observation of private physicians as cured, but who are still in a weak condition and require building up to enable them to again become bread-winners; 3) Working girls and women who, from overwork, lack of nourishment, or other causes, have reached a condition where, though unable to work, they are not fit subjects for a hospital, but require rest, fresh air, and good food to restore them to a physical condition that will enable them to follow their usual occupation.

The Home is not a hospital to receive women or girls in need of medical treatment, nor is it for the aged, infirm, or incurable. Applications should not be made for the admittance of persons for whom the home is not intended. During the year 778 women were cared for in the Home. Applications for admission to the home, or information concerning the same, may be obtained by addressing communications to the office.

Tenement House Committee of the Charity Organization society, R. 615-622, 105 East 22d St., N. Y. C. This committee seeks to improve the condition of the homes of the people in New York City by preventing the passage of legislation which will weaken the present Tenement House Law; by securing from time to time, as may be necessary, new legislation strengthening and improving the present requirements; by studying carefully the enforcement of the existing laws by the local authorities and stimulating them to more efficient administration, co-operating with the local officials wherever it is possible. In addition, it is the purpose of the Committee to study carefully present and future tendencies, especially in the outlying districts of the city, so as to safeguard these districts from the creation of slums similar to those which exist in the more congested portions of the city; to formulate new remedies for existing conditions and secure their accomplishment and to develop in all ways possible every practicable improvement in tenement house conditions. Through the efforts of this committee the appointment of the Tenement House Commission of 1900 was secured, as well as the passage of the present Tenement House Law, and the establishment of the Tenement House Department.

It carries on educational work with tenements, landlords, social workers, and the general public, by preparation and distribution of pamphlets, through lectures, conferences, and in other ways.

Miss Madge D. Headley, Secretary; Harry T. Warren, Assistant Secretary.

Tenement House Department of the City of New York (est. Chap. XIX A, of the Greater New York Charter; adopted 1901).

BRONX office: 391 East 149th St. (tel. 7107 Melrose). James F. Meehan, Superintendent.

This department is charged with the enforcement of the Tenement House Law and of certain provisions of the Charter, and with the collecting and recording of information in regard to tenement houses. Plans and specifications for new tenements must be submitted here, and complaints in regard to unsafe, unsanitary and immoral conditions in existing tenement houses should also be referred to the department. The Department keeps on file names and addresses of owners of tenements, descriptions of tenement property, carefully classified records of the tenements inspected and other sociological data.

NEW BUILDING BUREAU. Files, records, and examines plans and specifications for new or altered tenement houses and for buildings to be reconstructed for use as tenements. It also inspects such houses in the course of alteration or construction, and reports violations of the Tenement House Law.

OLD BUILDING BUREAU. Inspects completed tenement houses and reports violations of the tenement house laws and ordinances.

BUREAU OF RECORDS. Collects and keeps on file, names and addresses of owners of tenements, descriptions of tenement property, carefully classified records of the tenements inspected and other sociological data.

Communications should be addressed, "The Tenement House Department," and to the office of the borough in which may be located the property which is the subject of correspondence.

Travelers' Aid Society of New York, (org. 1905; incorp. 1907) 465 Lexington Ave., N. Y. C. (tel. 323-324 Murray Hill). A non-sectarian, protective organization to safeguard travelers, particularly women and girls, who by reason of inexperience, ignorance, illness, infirmity or other disability, are in need of assistance. It provides information, advice, guidance and protection irrespective of age, race, creed, class or sex. Women agents of the Society, who speak the different languages, are known by their official badge. They are on duty day and night, covering all trans-Atlantic steamers carrying first and second class passengers, and all stations both on Manhattan and west of the Hudson. Appointment work is emphasized. There is no charge for assistance. Agents of the Society never accept fees or gratuities.

Social conditions and the activities of avarice and crime are such that in the emergencies of travel many persons are made the prey of vice of every form. The Society is helping an average of over 2,000 persons each month, the majority being women under 30 traveling alone. Over 73,000 persons of whom complete records are kept, have already been definitely assisted. Protection can be extended throughout the United States and abroad, as the Society has co-operation with over 500 cities in the United States, and with the societies abroad.

The Society is supported by voluntary contributions from philanthropic organizations and individuals, and is controlled by a Board of Directors of various religious affiliations.

Tuberculosis Hospital Admission Bureau (org. 1910) 426 First Ave., near 25th St., N. Y. C. Under the direction of a committee composed of the Commissioner of Health, the Commissioner of Charities, and the President of the Medical Board of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals.

The following tuberculosis institutions in New York City receive their patients through this Bureau:

(a) General tuberculosis hospitals maintained by the city: Metropolitan, Riverside and Sea View;

(b) General tuberculosis hospitals maintained indirectly by subsidy from Department of Charities: Seton, Montefiore Home, St. Joseph's, St. Vincent's, Brooklyn Home for Consumptives and St. Peter's;

(c) Reception hospitals: Bellevue, Manhattan, Cumberland Street, Brooklyn, and Kings County, Brooklyn. These last three institutions are for the reception of patients needing immediate care;

(d) Sanatoria for Incipient Cases, only: Otisville, maintained by the City; Bedford, subsidized by the City; Ray Brook, maintained by the City.

Cases are admitted on personal application at the hospital or are referred by the Admission Bureau to the hospital when direct application to the Admission Bureau is made too late for admission to a general hospital on the same day; the Admission Bureau transfers all such cases to other hospitals as soon as possible, excepting those cases which the reception hospital authorities wish to retain or which are too ill to be transferred. In every instance an inspector of the Department of Charities is sent to visit the patient's home to investigate the social and financial conditions.

United States Immigration Station (est. under Federal control 1890), Ellis Island, New York Harbor (tel. all departments, 6301 Broad).

Frederic C. Howe, Commissioner; Byron H. Uhl, Assistant Commissioner.

Government immigrant inspectors, surgeons of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, and interpreters board all incoming steamers at quarantine, and examine all alien cabin passengers on board ship; and also discharge at the dock all citizens arriving by steerage. Such as are not eligible to land are taken to Ellis Island, and are detained there pending investigations. Steerage passengers are transferred from the docks to Ellis Island, and are subjected to a thorough process of inspection under the Immigration Laws.

Those debarred from landing by decision of the Boards of Special Inquiry are returned to the countries whence they came. Those admitted are facilitated in reaching their destinations. Those going to New York and vicinity are, when necessary, accommodated until friends call for them. Provision is made for the Maintenance, at the expense of the steamship companies, of those who are detained pending investigation; and for the hospital care of arriving immigrants who are ill or disabled.

Alien immigrants who have become a public charge within three years after landing from causes existing prior to landing may be returned in certain specified cases. Superintendents of public almshouses and hospitals in which are alien inmates who have been here less than three years are urged to bring such cases to the attention of the Commissioner.

The Government maintains an Information and Distribution Bureau at the Barge Office, New York City. (See United States Distribution Branch, etc.) The normal force of officers and employees at Ellis Island, including hospitals, numbers about 565. The entire service, with the exception of the office of Commissioner, is under the Civil Service Rules and Regulations. Many religious and charitable organizations have representatives at Ellis Island.

United States Postal Savings System (est. Jan. 3, 1911, under authority of act of Congress approved June 25, 1910). The United States receives savings deposits from the public at post offices designated for that purpose, and is pledged to repay them on demand with accrued interest.

DEPOSIT OF MONEY.—Postal savings deposits may be made by any person ten years of age or over. A married woman may deposit in her own name and free from any control or interference by her husband. No person shall have more than one postal savings account at the same time.

A deposit of at least one dollar is required for the opening of an account. Deposits of one dollar, or any number of dollars, will be accepted until the balance to the credit of the depositor amounts to five hundred dollars, exclusive of accumulated interest. Not exceeding one hundred dollars, however, may be deposited in any one calendar month.

Amounts less than one dollar may be saved by purchasing postal savings cards and savings stamps at ten cents each. A savings card with nine savings stamps affixed will be accepted as a deposit either in opening an account or adding to an existing account, or will be redeemed in cash.

Accounts may be opened through a representative, and subsequent deposits may be made through a representative or by mail.

WITHDRAWAL OF MONEY.—A depositor may withdraw on demand the whole or any part of the money deposited to his credit, with any interest payable thereon, by applying at the post office where the deposits were made. Withdrawals may also be made through a representative or by mail.

INTEREST.—Interest at the rate of two per cent a year will be allowed on each deposit, provided the money remains for one or more full years from the first day of the month following the month in which the deposit is made. Interest will not be paid for parts of a year.

POSTAL SAVINGS BONDS.—Twice each year a depositor may exchange the whole or any part of his deposits for United States registered or coupon bonds of the denominations of twenty dollars, one hundred dollars and five hundred dollars, bearing interest at the rate of two and one-half per cent per annum. On the application of any holder these bonds will be purchased by the Board of Trustees of the Postal Savings System at their face value.

Further information concerning the Postal Savings System may be obtained by applying at the post office or by addressing the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, Washington, D. C.

The Society shall establish and maintain in the tenement-house districts, places of residence for college men and others desirous of aiding in the work, with rooms where the people of the neighborhood may meet for social and educational purposes.

The Settlement occupies a six story building, and more than 7,000 different people come to it every week. There are accommodations for twelve residents and the work is further aided by more than one hundred volunteers from all parts of the city. The house is open daily throughout the year from 9 A.M. to 12 P.M.

The work of the settlement includes a kindergarten, conducted under the auspices of the Board of Education, a gymnasium, public baths and a branch of the Penny Provident Bank; music and dancing classes, lectures, debates, concerts, street play, etc. There are about 125 self-governing groups located in the Settlement, comprising mothers, civic, dramatic, musical, political, literary, social, charitable, choral, art and business clubs. The groups of younger boys and girls meet in the afternoon and the older ones in the evening.

Delegates from the evening clubs, together with the Headworker and residents, comprise the Guild. Monthly meetings are held and through federal organizations the Guild Journal is published and other literary, civic, musical, athletic and social activities are carried on. The members of the individual group clubs meet once a week to conduct business meetings under parliamentary rule and enjoy literary and social entertainments.

The summer work includes flower distribution, and special fresh air excursions for mothers and children, and the operation of two camps:

Cedar Grove Camp at Montclair, N. J., for girls and mothers, under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary, and,

Camp Tioranda, at Beacon, N. Y., for boys.

The Settlement co-operates with the various societies of the district and takes part in the movements which aim at the betterment of neighborhood conditions. It is the meeting place of fraternal orders and local charitable societies.

Supported by dues from clubs and classes, dues of the University Settlement Society, voluntary contributions and income from rentals. The annual budget is about $33,000.

STUDIOS: 23-25-27 6th Ave. NEW YORK

THE YOKE

By David Roy Piper

A little book of only sixty pages, but it puts before the reader, in a manner to leave a lasting impression and stimulate to wise and thoughtful action, the undeniable and unescapable laws upon which rests and without the observance of which this religion becomes a mere sham and pretense.

You and your friends cannot afford to be without this book when it can be obtained for such a trifling amount. Price 25c Postpaid.

"A PREFERRED BENEVOLENCE"

BEREA COLLEGE ASKS AID

For Our Southern Highlanders

Eight states bunch their mountain ends in "Appalachian America," and isolation has kept the people in pioneer conditions.

But these robust highlanders are of good American stock, with Scotch and English ancestry, shown in names, speech, and surviving customs. A real national asset—3,000,000 people and rapidly increasing—more needy and more promising than any other body of white people in the world.

This region demands very special educational treatment.

By well adopted Normal and Industrial work, Extension service, etc. Berea is saving them from corrupting influences and fitting them to reenforce the better elements of the nation.

1700 Students from mountain ends of 8 states !

Religious—Non-sectarian. Mainly dependent on individual gifts.
$100 constitutes an "effective helper," $40 meets one student's cost.

Send gifts or inquiries to the President,

WILLIAM GOODELL FROST - - Berea, Ky.

Woodrow Wilson—"Berea is providing for the renewal of the life of our country at its sources."

New York Times—Berea represents the best attempted for these hemmed in millions of sturdy Americans. It should have at least the resources of a Hampton or a Tuskegee.

THE BIBLE AND FRUIT MISSION TO THE PUBLIC HOSPITALS OF NEW YORK CITY.

The object of this Society is to minister to the spiritual uplift of the patients in the public hospitals of our City and to bring some brightness and joy into their lonely lives. Under the sanction of the physicians and nurses it distributes flowers, fruits and other delicacies, Bibles, tracts and various religious reading matter in many languages, by means of lady visitors, who go regularly each week to cheer the despondent and comfort the dying.

The Society feels deeply the need of a temporary home for special cases of convalescents discharged from the hospitals, who are without money or friends, and are too weak to work, and so appeals to the public for annual subscriptions to the amount of three thousand dollars to care for such cases until fifty or sixty thousand dollars shall be secured and a permanent home established. Contributions of fruit, flowers and other comforts may be sent to the Bellevue Hospital, East 26th St., in care of the Librarian, and money to the Treasurer.

Society for Providing Evangelical Religious Literature for the Blind

Rev. ROBERT JOHNSTON, D.D., President, Philadelphia, Pa.
WILLIAM B. WAIT, Treasurer, 133 West 92nd St., New York City.
Office, 39 W. 32nd St., New York City.

I.—Provides the INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON and non-denominational literature for blind boys and girls, teachers and pastors. Its field is all of the 59,647 blind in our country and Canada who read tactile print.

II.—Reaches the needy blind in remote districts. A penny postal to the nearest public library brings free of charge through the mail free reading matter loaned to the blind.

III.—Publishes books as funds are provided. Embossed printing is very expensive.

THE SHELVES OF OUR MANY PUBLIC LIBRARIES ARE LADEN WITH INNUMERABLE BOOKS FOR THE SEEING.

Remember the Small Shelf of the Blind.

FORM OF BEQUEST.

I hereby give, devise and bequeath to "The Society for Providing Evangelical Religious Literature for the Blind," incorporated in Philadelphia, and their successors forever for its uses and purposes, the sum of dollars (or real estate described).

THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK, Chairman

THE POSTMASTER OF NEW YORK

THE PRESIDENT OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

OTTO T. BANNARD

JAMES C. FARGO

JOHN CLAFLIN

OBJECTS

JAMES SPEYER

1. To obtain benevolent gifts for the Hospitals of New York.
2. To further methods of economy and to co-ordinate and extend the work of the Hospitals.

The giver—perplexed by many hospital appeals, the relative merits of which he has neither time nor means to determine—has a sure channel for accomplishing his benevolent purposes, through The Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association.

It not only reduces duplication of effort in raising money, but distributes the money among the hospitals according to the actual amount of free treatment which each gives to the poor, irrespective of race or creed.

This it ascertains through carefully audited reports made by 47 leading hospitals directly to the Association, on uniform schedules, which show in detail the "Work Done," "Income" and "Expenses."

Approval of business men is shown by annual contributions of $5 to $5,000 from over 1,000 firms.

The name "Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association," arose a generation ago when it sought only a collection in churches and synagogues on the last Saturday and Sunday of each year. Now it is supported through many channels, and four-fifths of its receipts are from secular sources.

Raised last year $133,784.58.

The Association facilitates the admission, for free hospital treatment, of proper cases referred by contributors to Frederick D. Greene, Gen'l Sec'y, 105 E. 22nd St.

The Tuberculosis Preventorium for Children

Aims to prevent the development and spread of tuberculosis. It takes children from infected homes to the Farmingdale, N. J., all-year-round fresh air sanatorium. They are carefully examined by the Association of Tuberculosis Clinics, and passed upon by the Department of Charities before admission to the Preventorium.

Here the children are built up so that they may resist the development of tuberculosis. Model open air schools are maintained. The average period of treatment is four months during which the sanitary conditions of the home are improved and the source of infection, if possible, removed so that on discharge the children may return to healthful surroundings. The work is absolutely free and non-sectarian.

Membership $1 to $1,000 a year.

Life Bed $2,500.

Perpetual Bed $5,000.

$250 endows one bed for one year.

This is both the oldest and the leading institution of its kind in the country. It is a centre of scientific work devoted to the humanities. Over one hundred surgeons give it their gratuitous services. In the last year they performed 8,745 operations in the several departments, besides treating 41,600 new cases in the Dispensary Department.

That charity is most efficient which prevents pauperism by restoring the bread-winner to his work.

This institution is not only worthy of support, but needs it to achieve the highest results.

Will you inquire into its merits and give it a helping hand?

An Opportunity

We offer you an opportunity to buy fire wood at the regular trade prices now prevailing and, at the same time, to share in a social service of known value.

By purchasing your wood from us, you enable some homeless man to earn a decent meal and a good night's sleep in a clean bed, or its equivalent in cash. Our wood is cut by men who are admitted to our yard on the presentation of a ticket entitling them to the payment stated above in return for a required amount of labor in splitting and cutting wood. This work can be done in from three to five hours. Lighter work is provided for those who are not strong enough to meet this test.

The wood bought is carried to you by our own trucks and drivers and placed in your cellar without extra charge, at the regular trade prices.

Books of ten tickets, each ticket entitling the bearer to a half-day's work in our woodyard, as stated above, are on sale at the office below at $1.00 per book, or at the general office of the Charity Organization Society, 105 East 22d Street, New York City.

We want new customers.

HAND-LAUNDERED LINEN

Wears Out in Time, but is not Torn and Gashed at the First Cleansing.

The Laundry of the Charity Organization Society does a high grade of hand work. Dainty linen comes home white and smooth—no “stars” in the middle folds of the tablecloths. Lace curtains are sent to this laundry by some of the most particular housewives in New York. Great hampers of washing have come from the National Capitol.

There is no secret process. Hand work is one of our great features. Delicate pieces of napery are handled only by skilled women. In good weather the drying is done in the open air. Positively no chemicals are used.

But the washing of clothes is the secondary consideration of the Charity Organization Society's Laundry. Primarily it is a school for laundresses. Besides aiming to have the best laundry in New York we have a larger aim in training unskilled women, widows and deserted wives in washing and ironing. When their efficiency warrants, they are recommended as laundresses in private families. The demand for these trained laundresses exceeds the number which can be supplied on short notice.

While the laundress is learning her trade she is paid fair wages and given a hot noonday meal. At night she goes home to her children and her family is not broken up.

With such a vital interest as their independence at stake, these women do their work well. Why not help them by sending your laundry where you can feel that your curtains and delicate pieces will be handled only by experts. The laundry is not self-supporting—but the women are.

Prices standard for first-class work.
